

ANDREW GUERRIER

Motivational Speaker

"...in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us."

Romans 8:37

Dear Friends,

I would love the opportunity to speak or perform at your upcoming event. I believe, as I am sure you will agree, that the greatest investment that we can make in a person's life is to show them that we care and help them to reach their full potential.

I have made it my personal mission to help young people facing unparalleled hurts, pressures and difficult choices to discover their self-worth and life's purpose. I know that my purpose for being on this earth is to help others to recognize, develop and use their God-given abilities to create a legacy for the generations that follow.

It is my calling to work with the youth because young people tend to listen to someone who they feel has lived a life and has a story that they can relate to. I am dedicated to using my past experiences and my message of change to secure a brighter future for the youth of America.

If we can make an impact in the lives of young people by taking a stand against the negative influences in this world, we can expect to live a better life and collectively teach others to do the same. I often share with people that "there is nothing wrong with living right". With all of the pressures young people face today, I feel that it is our responsibility as adults to set a good example and to give them hope.

I created I AM LEGACY in an effort to encourage others to motivate and inspire this generation by serving as an example through their own accomplishments. My goal is to expand this concept world-wide by sharing my life experiences and creating positive music to coincide with my message.

If we can together, take steps to heal the hearts of young people, help in times of pressure and equip them with the necessary knowledge to make better choices, we will eradicate the label Generation X and change it to Generation Next!

Thank you for your time.

Because Everyone Matters,

Andrew Guerrier

Legacy

Biography

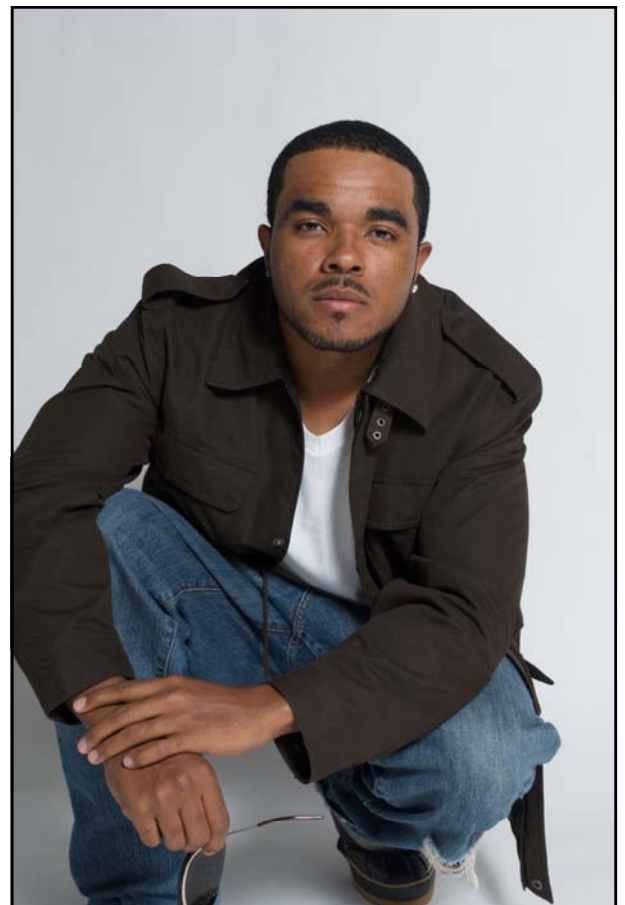

Andrew Guerrier is a highly sought-after motivational speaker with a passion to lead young people in a positive direction using his ability to speak and create music. Born October 11th 1981, Andrew was raised in Miami, FL by Haitian parents that migrated to the United States in the late 1960's.

Andrew's love and passion for music blossomed on the stages of elementary school as well as at the family's local church. At age five, his father prophetically stated that, "Andrew was born to be a performer." His inspiration came from mix tapes created on the streets of New York. World famous DJ's such as Red Alert, S&S , Ron G and Kid Capri sparked Legacy's love for Hip Hop. From there, he diligently began to pursue a career in music.

The name Legacy was created while Andrew was a student in high school. He felt that his name was more than just about him, but for every person who desired to see success in their lives as well as others. Andrew describes the name Legacy as an "inheritance or gift from God, leaving a Legacy for all of God's people".

After graduating high school, Andrew aka Legacy moved to Jacksonville, FL to live with his father, find work and keep out of trouble. However in 1999, his relentless attempts to land a record deal landed Andrew in the county jail facing charges with a possible sentence of 25 years in prison. The case went to trial and Andrew was acquitted of four out of five felony charges and was sentenced to five years behind bars. It was during his incarceration that he decided to put his past behind him and a new Legacy was born. After an early prison release, he returned to Miami where the positive re-direction of his life began to take shape.

Andrew felt the need to share his experiences with peers that seemed to be heading down the same path. He moved to Atlanta, GA in 2004, there he was hired by a non-profit organization to work with students and athletes all over the southeast region of the United States. His involvement with troubled teens brought him a sense of a purpose for creating music and the I AM LEGACY project was birthed.

i am LEGACY

Biography

I AM LEGACY is a campaign for young individuals who feel as if it is their responsibility to leave a legacy for the next generation. Andrew feels that "the only way to really duplicate success is if someone before you has left a blueprint to continue in the efforts that made them successful". The mission of I AM LEGACY is to call people to motivate and inspire this generation through their accomplishments and abilities regardless of race, gender or profession. With that in mind, Andrew combined his gifts of speaking and music to create a niche and separate himself from other motivational speakers and performance artists. Andrew has a gift in his ability to keep the attention of young people using a unique blend of word and song, which he believes is the prescription for change in our society. "Music expresses and channels every emotion of man and has been the soundtrack to our lives since the beginning of time".

Crediting God as the source of change in his life, Andrew's words and music continue to reach broad audiences. He is actively speaking at various school assemblies, concerts and prisons where he shares his story and his music. Andrew's spiritual gifts and positive influence are sure to have an impact on many generations to come.

Presentations

A Legacy Worth Leaving

What message are you sending out and what story will it leave behind? This message attempts to enlighten young people of their responsibility to set the standard for the generations to come. The topic challenges the participants to really think about what they want to be remembered for. During this intimate and interactive presentation, Andrew encourages the youth of today to be good stewards of their time and not waste their life by living without purpose and meaning.

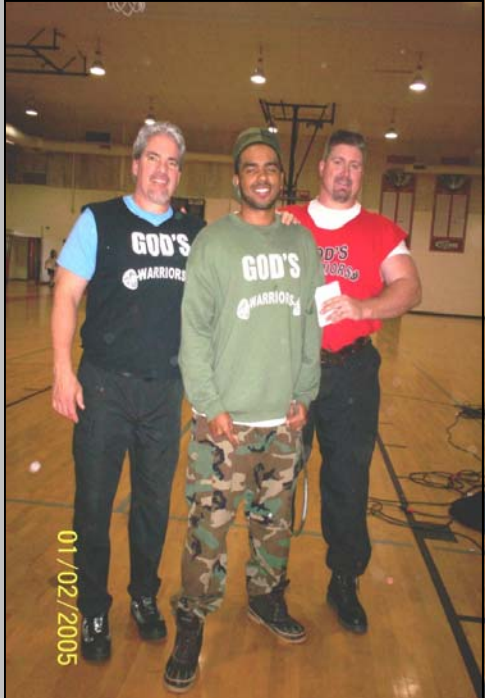

Who Are You When No One Is Looking?

In this dynamic keynote, Andrew will reveal what the true definition of character is. This topic explains how people are not impressed by facades or manipulation, but by authenticity and those who genuinely strive to be their best. Andrew believes character is not a matter of outward technique but of inner reality. He feels this generation struggles with hiding behind an image instead of defining who they really are. Discovering and understanding one's own identity helps us to have more meaningful and successful relationships in our personal and business lives.

Order Your Steps

With the troubles we face in our society today, it is critical to evaluate what is most important and significant in our lives. Andrew goes into detail about the importance of arranging our goals and desires in order from first to last. Often times young people prioritize what is least important and neglect what holds true and lasting value. For example, many kids aspire to be better athletes than students which stems from not understanding priorities. In order to be a great athlete you have to first become a good student. He emphasizes that without maintaining good grades it is impossible to even be on an athletic team. Andrew attempts to shift the minds of his audience by using algebraic like examples of creating an "order of operations" for their lives.

He has been a positive impact to the students who I teach and coach, in ways that I was not able to reach them. The students listen to what he has to say and his words stick. I encourage anyone who is looking for a positive speaker who can empower students into reaching their goals while overcoming tremendous odds to introduce Andrew as their Keynote speaker."

"I have had the privilege of knowing Andrew Guerrier for the past three years. I met Andrew when I joined the Fellowship of Christian Athletes as a school sponsor. Andrew was the FCA staff member assigned to our school. He immediately became a great friend to me and all of my student leaders. When he would visit our school during our leadership planning meetings, he would take the time to speak with the students individually, seeking to get to know them better. He would always give them his undivided attention when speaking with them, making eye contact and implanting active listening skills. Andrew has also spoken at our FCA huddle meetings on numerous occasions. He is always engaging and captivates his audience from the beginning. Our students request him as a speaker each year.
